ISO QUALITY IS BEING PRO-ACTIVE

SMETA
SMETA Corrective Action
Plan Report (CAPR)
Version: 6.0

All great design in the world will not be of any use if our client's production does not match the quality expectations and the brand core values. From our factory auditing to material and final product inspection, we stay on the top of quality control. We believe quality is being pro-active and we always update our operations to control the entire procurement chain and guarantee stringent quality throughout the sourcing and production process.

At JEYA, we have strong belief that quality is not only how well product performs and holds up, but also how it is made. Therefore, our materials are selected well from secure and reliable source, our production is under ISO quality management system with full process QC process and keep revising and improvement as clients' specified requirements.

TRADITIONAL, ARTISANAL AND INDUSTRIAL

Sourcing reliability and competitiveness are key success factors and we provide strong sourcing capabilities in cotton, wool/acrylic, soft polyester, spandex, canvas, dryfit, denim, leather, PU, UV-proof, water-proof, organic and recycled materials, with variety of color option, and all are sourced according to brand values and clients budget. Along the years, we identify the most reliable material suppliers and established strategic partnership with them, and the materials are certified standards of environmental, organic or recycled if client required.

ENVIRONMENT , PEOPLE AND RESPECT FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

Respect: Respect for human rights has always been our beliefs and embedded in the way we do act. Our team is comprised of manufacturer specialist, product experts, merchandisers, sales, quality controllers and everyone supports and respects each other at each level of our structure and within the entire supply chain.

People: We have a fundamental belief to deliver quality. It goes without say it applies to your brands, it is also reflected in other key areas such as our procurement and employment policies. Our driving force and source of our success is our people and our project work because our people works collectively and in collaboration with our clients.

Compliance: Our team understand it is fundamental to your business and your customers that any product are made to the same standards of social and ethical compliance as your brands.

Environment: We maintain our “green factory program” by reducing greenhouse gas emissions from our supply chain and by asking our clients to to Re-think material sourcing. Here we support our customers by introducing environmentally conscious materials available we sourced. We maintain our “green factory program” by reducing greenhouse gas emissions from our supply chain and by asking our clients to to Re-think material sourcing.
